Alphonse Island Resort & St. Francois Lagoon

SEYCHELLES

Great News on Alphonse Island . . .

After a brief period of uncertainty, we are extremely pleased to announce that the world's premier bonefishing destination will be available to our clients for the 2007/2008 season.

As luck would have it, the new owners of the hotel have decided to keep the fishing program alive during the interim season, with a focus toward a fishing-only clientele. With a reduced number of rods at just 10, management and staff responsibilities will rest primarily with the care and needs of fishermen.

Bonefish

Bluefin Trevally

Triggerfish

Nothing has changed about the resource itself or the daily itinerary . . . fishermen will board the catamaran Tam Tam early each morning for a short run to the world-famous St. Francois Lagoon, where tides and guides will help formulate the plans for the day . . . try for bonefish, giant trevally, bluefin trevally, triggerfish, parrotfish, milkfish or permit. As the morning draws near the noon hour, you can decide whether to opt for a packed lunch out on the flats or return to the shade and comfort of the Tam Tam, where a nap and a cooler full of cold beer await.

Indio-Pacific Permit

Giant Trevally

Milkfish

You will be accommodated in your own private bungalow and paired with another angler and a guide each fishing day. Ten fishermen and ten rooms – plenty of space to stretch out and enjoy solitude in the evenings yet enjoy camaraderie during your days on the flats.

The freshwater pool and beach bar will remain open, providing a relaxing and refreshing way to unwind and recharge for the next day of fishing.

Rate: 7-night/6-day fishing packages are $6,850 per person, single occupancy/shared guide. There will be no individual guide assignments unless space allows.

Season: October 13, 2007 through April 26, 2008. Saturday-Saturday arrival and departure on Alphonse.
